

Girsberger Environmental Guidelines

Environmental and quality awareness have been part of Girsberger's corporate philosophy for over 130 years. Since 2007, we have held an EN ISO 14001 environmental certificate for a comprehensive environmental management system. This means that, in addition to legal compliance, we have committed ourselves to complying with the standard specifications, to systematically taking into account all significant environmental aspects and to continuously improving our environmental performance. Compliance with the requirements is checked annually by an external, certified body by means of an audit.

We are convinced that sustainable economic activity in harmony with responsibility for people, the environment and society is only possible by acting ethically and with integrity. We focus on sustainable solutions that reconcile economic goals and ecological aspects.

We produce and market our products in the most environmentally friendly way possible. Since 1 January 2015, Girsberger's production has been climate-neutral (Scope 1 and Scope 2). Our employees are regularly informed about all environmental aspects of our company and motivated to act in an environmentally conscious manner, also in their private lives.

The aim of our guidelines is to formalise and describe in more detail the commitment to the environment described in the corporate mission statement "WE ARE GIRSBERGER". They form the framework for our company's attitude and responsibility to protect the environment.

The following are the most important guidelines:

- Compliance with all environmental laws and regulations.
- Environmental protection is an integral part of our business activities. We strive for high standards of environmental behaviour. The promotion of high, constantly improving environmental standards is a commitment and common goal for management and executives in all areas.
- We set ourselves annual environmental targets, review them regularly and disclose the targets and measures achieved every two years in our "Sustainability Report".
- We consider environmental influences and impacts before selecting product materials and during the development of new products and processes.
- Whenever possible and economically justifiable, we prefer to choose manufacturers and raw material suppliers within a radius of 600 km of our respective production sites.
- We strive to implement the best possible processes to reduce emissions to air, water and soil and to conserve resources such as raw materials, water and energy. We select materials that can be produced in an environmentally friendly manner and disposed of according to type. We dispose of our waste sorted by material groups.
- Managers ensure that all employees are aware of these environmental policies, that they are understood and implemented and followed at all levels of the organization.
- Our special commitment to protecting the environment is also expressed through our "Remanufacturing" business unit. Instead of throwing furniture away and buying new, existing items can be reprocessed, which saves resources and avoids emissions. It does not matter which manufacturer the furniture comes from.

- We offer our customers professional and environmentally friendly disposal of office chairs, regardless of whether it is a Girsberger or third-party product.
